Big Horn County

Located in southeastern Montana, Big Horn County is Montana's 16th most populous with 11,337 residents, according to the 1990 Census.

Hardin, the county seat, is the state's 23rd largest city with a population of 2,940. According to the Montana Almanac, by authors Andrea Merrill and Judy Jacobson, the county was established in 1913 and named for the Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep.

Big Horn County is home to the Crow Indian Reservation, Montana's largest. The Northern Cheyenne Reservation borders the Crow on the east. The Little Bighorn Battlefield National Monument is southeast of Hardin and memorializes those who died when Lt. Col. George A. Custer and his troops were defeated by Sioux and Northern Cheyenne warriors on June 25, 1876. The county is rich in coal resources and coal mining was the fifth largest industry in 1998.

According to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, median income for Big Horn County households in 1989 was $19,101. The county is 5,014.7 square miles in area; 4,994.9 square miles in land area and 19.8 in inland water area.

County residents experience the four distinct seasons. Average monthly temperatures range from a minimum of 13 degrees above in January to a maximum of 84 degrees above in July. According to the Montana Almanac, the annual precipitation in 1995 was 13.37 inches and the length of the growing season 130 days.

PLEASE NOTE: Because of time and budget constraints, we are only able to update our county flyers periodically. Individual tables are updated on a more frequent basis. You can call us if you'd like the most current information for a particular county. The Annual Averages for County Employment By Industry are updated annually, usually in June. The Top Employers are updated annually. Per Capita Income is usually released late spring. Population data for Montana is released in late December and county data in March. The Annual Average Labor Force information is benchmarked annually and numbers available before March. The other tables contain Census information and will be updated every 10 years. You can also look for more current information on our website listed on the front of this publication.
